...a football team of yesteryear seems a far

*The Battle Ground
Football Team
for 1965*

Silvey breaks loose for a long gain.

B.G.A. THUMPS ANTIOCH 34-0

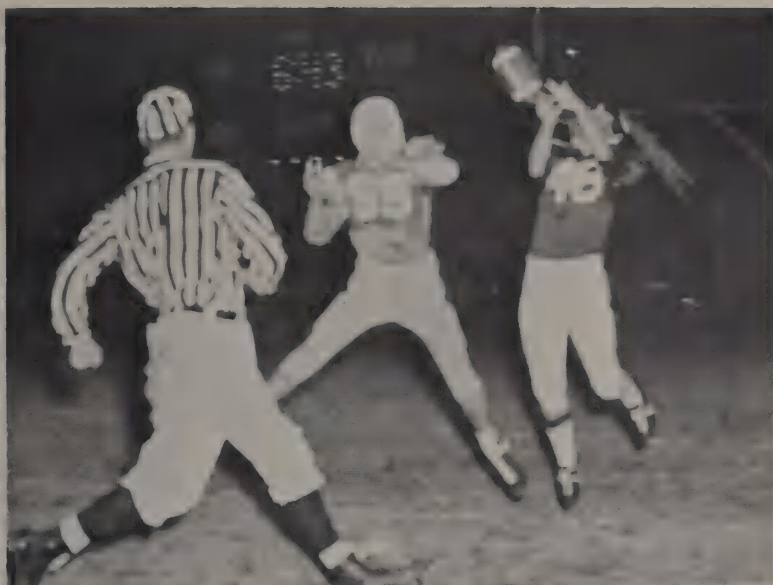

As the '65 season began, Battle Ground supporters had visions of a championship team. The game with Antioch strengthened this feeling. A wide-open ground attack gave the Wildcats 330 yards rushing and 34 points. The combination of team co-ordination and hard-nosed football produced the victory.

Leonard McGugin

Rudolph goes high to snag 50-yard pass from Thompson for touchdown against Lawrenceburg.

David Bland

Rader marches through Lawrenceburg territory en route to touchdown following pass interception.

Wildcats' Speed too Much for Lawrenceburg in 33-6 Win

With a number 9 ranking in the state, the 'Cats journeyed to face a homecoming at Lawrenceburg. Randy Rudolph was the star of the game as he collected 2 T.D.'s. The defense, led by Calvin and interception specialists Dyer and Rader, continued their rugged ways by holding Lawrenceburg to one touchdown.

Tony Trabue
Linebacker

*Patterson sweeps end

Fumbles Prove Costly in Loss to Deshler

The contest between two top teams of Alabama and Tennessee was a first-rate game. Dehler took a quick lead but our defense stiffened and held the Alabamians scoreless for two quarters. Milam tied the score in the third period and the Wildcats appeared to catch fire. But our hopes were quelled by four Wildcat fumbles, all recovered by Deshler.

Quick-pursuit holds Deshler quarterback Lewey to a short gain.

Home, Sweet Home 33-6 Over Clarksville

Although the defeat at the hands of Deshler was decisive, the Wildcats refused to hang their heads. Silvey gained over 200 yards rushing and scored 3 T.D.'s by finding gaping holes in the line made by Denbo and Bobby Jackson. The defensive unit, led by Rogers and Calvin, held Clarksville to minus rushing yardage and less than 60 yards total offense.

Silvey nears goal line and a Clarksville defender at the same time.

Randy Rudolph
Split End

Thompson, Milam, Silvey, and Patterson composed the '65 Wildcat backfield which accounted for more than 2,000 yards rushing.

Cat's Claw Eagles 34-12

Thompson cuts off of Ford's block as he scores on 30 yard run.

The Eagles from East put up a stubborn fight but it was not strong enough to produce an upset. Silvey again gained more than 200 yards and Rudolph electrified the crowd with a 70 yard punt return. This game proved to be the most productive for the offense, totalling over 500 yards.

Steve Robinson
Center

Ralph McCracken
Linebacker

Ford grabs Wunderlich from behind as Rodgers moves in to assist.

Cat's Hold Number One Rank in 34-12 Win Over M.U.S.

All-State halfback Bobby Patterson scampered for 230 yards and 3 T.D.'s against the West state invaders. The second half proved to be the best football the Wildcats played all year, as the offense moved the ball at will and the defense held M.U.S. scoreless. Tony Trabue intercepted 2 passes, one of which led to a Rudolph T.D.

Patterson stopped short of M.U.S. goal line.

Cold Second Half Results in 13-13 Tie with Murfreesboro

With a number 1 ranking in the state, the Wildcats headed to Murfreesboro. In the first half, the Wildcats scored two quick touchdowns, both by Milam. However, the loss of Don Denbo proved disastrous, not only in this game but those which followed. Murfreesboro came back in the second half and tied the score. The Tigers' defense strengthened and held B.G.A. deep in our own territory the rest of the night.

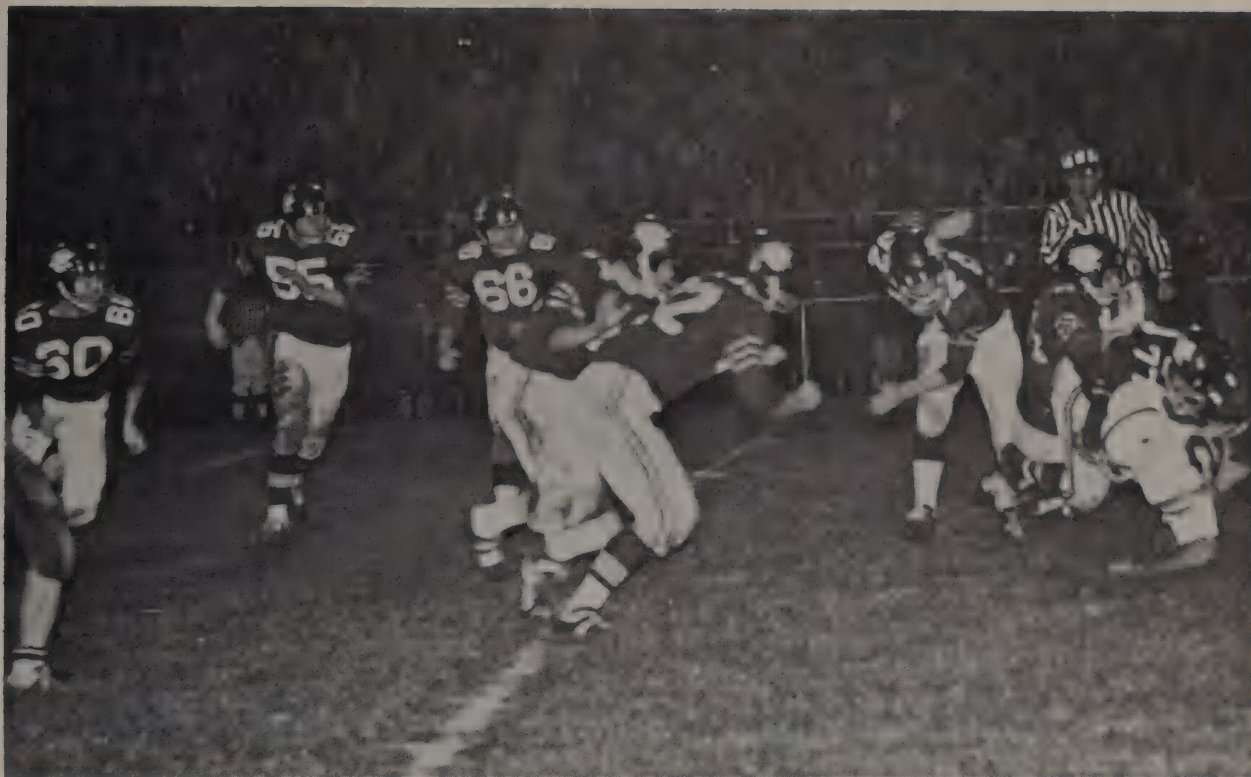

Bill Pemberton leads Jack Milam through a wide hole made by Logan Jackson.

Silvey carries two defenders after making a short gain.

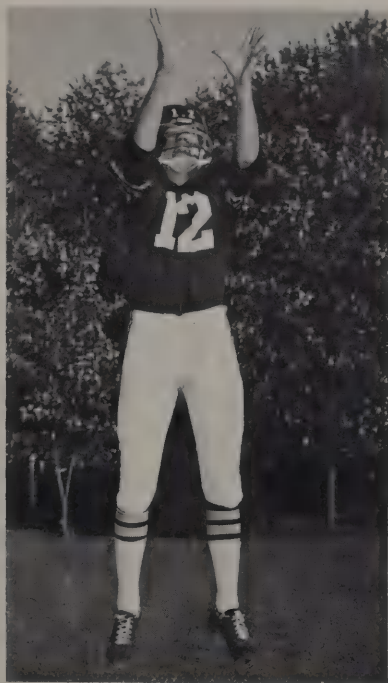

*Brother Campbell

All-Midstate Buddy Calvin throws Lebanon's Sellars for a long loss.

Defensive Safety

Bland, Calvin, and McGugin line.

The Wildcats outscored Lebanon in every statistical department except the scoring. Woods, McGugin, Rodgers, and Bland led the defense which held Lebanon to less than 50 yards total offense. However, for the first time the Wildcats were held scoreless. Lebanon's defense was able to contain one of the state's fastest backfields for nearly 4 quarters. During the game's last drive, Patterson was knocked out of bounds on the 3 yard line. The game ended with Battle Ground on the Lebanon two.

Springfield's Carroll is brought to an abrupt halt by Denbo, Bland, and Jackson.

Springfield Shocks 'Cats 20-0

Entering this game B.G.A. was in the State's top 10 for the 9th consecutive week. This high rank must have irritated the Jack-ets as they held the Wildcats to only 130 yards total offense. The defense was not as poor as the score might show. All-Midstate Buddy Calvin ended the regular season with 7 individual tackles in one half.

Don Denbo
Tackle

Patterson sweeps end deep in own territory.

Jack Milam, the game's leading rusher, carries for a short gain.

Metro Bowl Co-Champions

Bowl Record Remains Unblemished in 14-14 Tie with Two Rivers

For the second consecutive year the Wildcats played in a post-season bowl. This game saw the lead change three times, finally ending in a deadlock. The Wildcats' offensive threat was shown in Milam's wide runs, while Two Rivers was restricted to the air. After being behind for nearly 2 quarters, the Wildcats pushed across their last score of '65 and forged into the lead. With only a few minutes remaining, the score was knotted by a second Pirate aerial. The game ended with the 'Cats in possession on the Two Rivers' three yard line.

Rogers accepts Metro Bowl trophy.

Rogers stops Pirates' Callis for no gain.

Battle Ground's team played inspired basketball in this year's tournament. Credit for its success is due not only to the team's effort but to the support given by the student body, faculty, friends and patrons as well. The tremendous cheering section led by Vaughn Allen, Harry Ford, and Gordon Publow was by far the most loyal and most vocal group present. The signs drawn by Coach Gentry and painted by the faculty wives were the best seen at the tournament.

Each member of the team responded to this support and each contributed significantly to the team's success. Seniors of this year's squad can remember their last season with pride, and BGA, with its great tournament records of the past, can be justly proud of this team.

WILDCAT WRESTLERS

This year's edition of B.G.A. wrestlers was a team which never reached its full potential. As expected the Wildcat grapplers started off by clawing their way to victory over Franklin and Ryan. Then followed a tie with the always tough Tennessee School for the Blind. Against arch-rival M.B.A. the Wildcats lost a painfully close decision, but bounced back to defeat a strong team from Donelson. After the Christmas break the lack of depth and experience began to catch up with the 'Cats. When troubles came, they kept coming, as four key B.G.A. wrestlers were obliged to sit out the rest of the season for reasons of academic deficiencies and illness. From here on out the Wildcats had to scramble to break even. They reached their greatest moment by placing second in the Nashville Invitational Tournament with two individual champs: Kelly Lish and Jack Staples.

STATE TOURNAMENT TEAM

To every wrestler the highlight of the season is the State Tournament. The Wildcat Grapplers who qualified in the Region and traveled to Chattanooga to represent B.G.A. were the team's most consistently winning wrestlers. Captain Pat Bray finished fifth and little Kelly Lish placed third in the state.

The '66 Track team was the most talented the 'Cats have ever produced. High-jumping artist Bobby Patterson cracked the 6 foot mark with ease, and combined this with his speed in the 100-yd. dash. The 440 relay team broke the old record that they set last year, and Rutherford continued his blistering pace in the mile.

FELLOWSHIP of CHRISTIAN ATHLETES

OFFICERS

DANNY RODGERS, Chairman; GEORGE SILVEY, MARK ROGERS, JIMMY THOMPSON

The B.G.A. chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes was founded in 1964 and since that time has become one of the school's most worthwhile and all-encompassing organizations. Its purpose is to bring together young men for constructive discussion of the application of Christian principles to everyday life. Although composed primarily of boys who are interested in athletics, the F.C.A. is open to all boys who wish to participate. The Thursday morning "huddle sessions" offer a forum for religious discussion, a fellowship for boys faced by common problems, and a chance to reinforce one's religious convictions.

The Social Committee, sponsored by Mr. A. D. Cobb and Mrs. W. P. Redick, has the mammoth job of planning and organizing every social function which the school gives during the year. It is a common sight to see these boys working late the night before a dance. As a result of their hard work, the school has enjoyed some of the most lauded social activities in its history. The Social Committee forms a vital part of the school's activities.

The Battle Ground Academy chapter of Key Club International was officially chartered on December 23, 1965. An honorary service organization, the club is sponsored by Kiwanis International and dedicated to the same goals of community improvement as the parent organization. Listed among these goals are (1) development of initiative and leadership (2) providing experience in living and working together, and (3) preparing for useful citizenship. The Battle Ground Academy Key Club has moved steadily toward realization of these with its continuous program of service projects like the adoption of a military unit in Viet Nam, publication of the school directory, and the securing of toys for needy children at Christmas.

Prospects for growth are unlimited, and the Key Club each year will select, subject to faculty approval, worthy sophomores, juniors, and seniors to carry on the work begun in this charter year. Fulfilling the promise made to our school and community by our motto, "We build," the Key Club this year scans limitless horizons of purposeful activity.

DORMITORY PROCTORS

Seated, Left to Right: Don Denbo, Jim Webb, Bill Booher, Frank Bell, Harry Ford. Standing: Grantland O'Neal, Gordon Publow, David Bland, Bobby Jackson. Not pictured: Lee Truitt.

*Mr. Donald E. Patterson
Dormitory Supervisor*

As dormitory proctors, these boys are responsible for the behavior of the other dormitory students. They can often solve problems which teachers cannot, simply because they are usually closer to the students. In order to fulfill this responsibility, these boys must have high moral character and the respect and esteem of their fellow students. They are chosen according to these qualifications.

The National Beta Club is an honorary society for recognition of academic excellence. The Battle Ground Academy chapter requires an 87 average in each subject taken, for initiation. Thereafter, each member must maintain an honor roll average to retain his Beta Club privileges. Developing qualities of leadership, scholarship, and character, the Beta Club serves the school by emphasizing the serious aspects of school life as the real preparation for the future.

BETA CLUB

B-CLUB

Composed of Varsity athletes, the B-Club is an organization of young men whose athletic prowess has been proven in interscholastic varsity competition.

FORENSIC CLUB

The Forensic Club provides young men with the opportunity of learning how to speak in public. Upon entering the forensic program, the student is given a strong foundation in areas of vocabulary, enunciation, and speaking poise. He may then specialize in one of several areas, including Debate, Extemporaneous Speaking, Poetry Interpretation, Dramatics, and Oratory.

Due to the excellent supervision of Mrs. E. C. Duke, the forensic program has become a very worthwhile activity.

The students, graduates, faculty, and friends of Battle Ground Academy take this opportunity to gratefully acknowledge the many contributions of

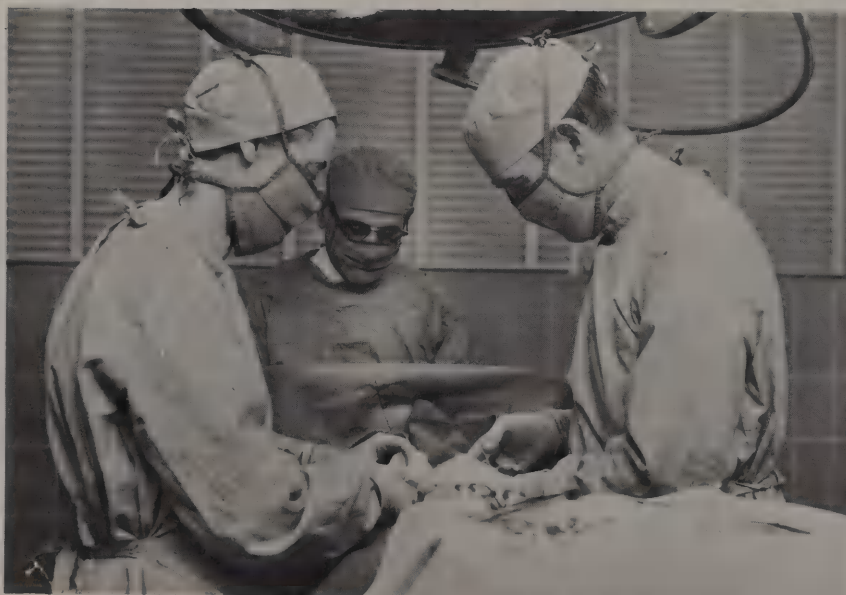

DOCTOR HARRY GUFFEE

who has been associated with the school since he entered as a student in 1926. Over the years he has been outstanding as *a student—winner of the BGA Scholarship Medal, an athlete—captain of BGA and Vanderbilt football teams

a graduate—degrees from Vanderbilt University and Medical College a benefactor—school and team doctor for more than twenty years

Known variously to intimates as "the iceman" or "Hup-Hup", his lean figure, halting gait, famed mumble, and western attire are as familiar to those associated with BGA as the school colors.

Thank you Dr. Guffee, for being an ardent fan, loyal supporter, and constant friend.

SEPTEMBER

- 8—Seniors meet Hi-Dinger; Hi-Dinger refuses to allow 8th period Beta privileges and faces open insurrection.
- 9—Mr. Patterson accepts Bland as a jelly-head rather than a burr-head.
- 10—Hi-Dinger succumbs to pressure; Beta Club party held 8th period with Sutherland as guest speaker.
- 12—Vaughn Allen becomes first senior to be mangled by the "Ghastly Goat."
- 18—McGugin utters "no jealousy unto thy neighbor."
- 22—Rogers prefers flying to the moon to discovering America.
- 23—Trabue prefers discovering America to flying to the moon.
- 26—Jelly-head becomes burr-head; Redick gets out sheep-shears.
- 27—Dorm students face first inspection; six dump trucks hired to move dirt.

Prophecy of the Class of 1966

I had done it. After centuries of dreaming, hoping, and trying, I was the first man to stand on the Moon.

Actually the honor which I would receive should belong to another. I was a swab jockey at Cape Seaton (formerly Cape Kennedy—it seemed that every president who came along changed the name of the place) and was cleaning out the capsule preparatory to the Moon flight when my assistant, Brad Hume, accidentally hit the button with his mop handle while he was cleaning the control tower. As I blasted off, I naturally thought the brass down below would scrub the flight, but the chief directors—Bill McClanahan and Danny Rodgers—decided to try to make the best of things, and the mission was continued. After all, janitors were expendable.

From where I stood, the Earth was enormous. I could see the continents and all the islands clearly with my naked eye. The rivers were clearly visible. And with the powerful telescope I had brought along, I could even see people.

I pointed the telescope toward Washington, D. C. There was President Seaton walking down Pennsylvania Avenue with some of his chief aides. I could see Republican Party leader Don Hunter and Secretary of Indian Affairs, Chief Truitt. There was some guy walking along behind with a sign on his back, "I'm the greatest", who proved to be Bill Sutherland. Also visible was Farmer Jackson, Secretary of Agriculture. As the heads of state went up the steps of the Capitol, they were met by Vice-President Bray and a group of cheering citizens, led by Vaughn Allen.

I looked away from Washington and northwest to the Great Lakes, and focused on the home base of the Green Bay Packers. There was coach Jack Lee running his boys through a brutal practice. I could see Cannonball Calvin racking up the offense. Bobby Patterson had discovered that he could put his high-jumping talents to work, and avoid Calvin's bruising tackles. But rifle-arm Thompson was having a rough time getting passes away. Most of the ones he got off were intercepted by the defense.

I then took a look at the old hole itself. It was the afternoon before the final dance, and down at the gym the band was arriving. There was "Mr. Guitar" himself, Randy Rudolph, and Trim "Buffalo" Beasley. Loy Hardcastle had his drums there. Another member of the band, George Wallace, had not made it. Wirt Harlin had been driving down the road with Harmon Hays, playing "London, England" when he piled into George. The photographers drove up, "Flashbulb" Hanson and Ricky Peterson. The headmaster, Mickey Beadle, was strutting around checking on things and looking important, having been taught by a master.

The world was turning, so I had to move on. In San Francisco, I noticed a basketball team practicing. The Coach, Wink Cherry, had some professional players demonstrating various skills to his high school team. John Gifford showed amazing coordination as he dribbled full speed down the court behind his back with a blindfold on. Ken Tarkington showed professional poise as he gracefully executed a lay-up. Up in the stands "Goose" Smith and "Candy" Kain were doing an outstanding job of grandstand coaching.

Down in Los Angeles, I looked down on Breck Wyatt's nightclub. Felix Treadway, a former professional boxer, was the bouncer of this institution; and at the moment was having some trouble. Wild Man Keith was inside and had become a little rowdy, and Treadway was throwing him out. Up on the stage was man of all talents, Jim Dyer.

Keith was finally evicted from Wyatt's nightclub. He immediately crossed the street and entered the Pink Palace, a rival joint. Jerry Carter was the proprietor of the Palace, and Ross Crutcher, his bouncer, was less efficient; so Keith would have no trouble here.

In another part of Los Angeles, a Chamber of Commerce meeting was in progress. Ralph White-man and David Johnson, presidents of Reynolds and American Tobacco Companies, respectively, were engaged in a heated debate. Other business leaders present were Perry Shields, vice-president of Anheuser-Busch, and Mike Rudder, marine designer.

I looked toward Hawaii, and saw Tony Trabue's pineapple plantation. There were Trabue and Park Brandon sitting on the veranda of Tony's mansion. Bryan Long and Garath Matthews were trying to keep the two millionaires entertained with an endless variety of jokes, most of which were falling flat. The two Brown boys, Dan and Paul, were working in the kitchen of the villa; and the butler, Gordon Publow, was trying to keep them from straining spaghetti on his tennis racket.

Over in New Guinea the United States was fighting the Red Chinese in another limited-action war. The Marines were there, fighting furiously for the freedom of New Guinea. Behind the lines at the command post, Major General Rogers and some of his aides were planning an offensive. Colonel McGugin, graduate of West Point, offered suggestions freely, most of which were ridiculous. Lieutenant Colonel Kousser also offered suggestions; and as each one was turned down he almost left. The meeting was completed; and Majors Bland, Crosby, and Grissom took the plans back to their battalions. Bland had a hard time explaining the plans to his men. Sergeant Woods kept asking, "What if they do thus-and-so?", and Sergeant Howser kept getting mad.

Outside the battle zone, Rob Sturdivant was trying to convince privates Rosson and Hill that he had killed three Chinese with one shot. Nearby, Corporals Rutherford and Smith were telling newcomer Clyde "Camel" Redford what to do when attacked. Sam told him to run, and Willie told him to wrestle.

Back on the moon, I was ready to leave. But my gear only included enough equipment to get to the moon, not back. I would have to wait a few months until the next moon flight. I curled up under the capsule to get some sleep.

—BILL WHITE

MEMORABLE EVENTS

In November the student body "adopted" the 151st Transport Co. and attempted to show its support for our fighting men in Vietnam.

In January we were privileged to hear Sing-Out '66 which inspired many of our students to join the Moral Re-armament program & Sing-Out South.

In October the Hamburger Supper provided the parents a chance to meet the faculty.

The Social Committee provided the student body with numerous informal dances which were enjoyed by all.

Kenneth Tarkington, acclaimed the best actress of the production, scathingly satirizes our knowledgeable librarian.

James Orrille Dyer adeptly recreates the famous gesticulations of our Assistant Headmaster.

THE LAST WORD . . .

We take this opportunity to thank those who have made this annual possible. First, we thank those students who sold ads, for through their effort we have had more money to work with than any editors in the CANNON BALL's history. Secondly, we thank the students and parents of seniors who contributed snapshots to be used for the humorous portion of the yearbook. We thank the members of the CANNON BALL staff, especially Brad Hume, Gordon Publow, Trim Beasley, Bill Pemberton, and our photographers, Joe Hanson, Jack Lee, and Allen Muse. Finally, we thank our sponsor, Mr. Patterson, without whose experience and guidance the annual would not have been possible.
